U. S. BOMBERS KEEP ROLLING OVER EUROPE

Approximately 2,000 Planes Drop Nearly 8,000 Tons in Less Than Two Days

FOLLOW UP TO R. A. F.

BULLETIN
London, Feb. 22.—(P)—The first coordinated air attack against Germany from bases in the United Kingdom and Italy was carried out today, with planes from the south and west hitting aircraft factories and other targets, U. S. Army headquarters announced.

By W. W. HERCHER
London, Feb. 22.—(P)—American and British medium and light bombers, sustaining the air offensive which nearly 2,000 U. S. heavy bombers and fighters punctuated yesterday with attacks on two aircraft plants at Brunswick and six German airfields, jabbed today at enemy targets in the Netherlands and northern France. American Marauders of the new 14th Airforce sprayed bombs on the strategic German airfield at Elze-Rien.

It was announced that three British fighters were missing from AF night operations in which six German bombers were shot down in western Germany, attacked to enemy E-boats in the channel and laid mines in enemy waters. A German raid on England last night barely disturbed London, only a handful of Nazi planes crossed the channel, dropping a few bombs in southern England. Little damage and a small number of casualties were reported, an official announcement said.

The U. S. air attacks on Germany yesterday carried to new heights an Allied offensive against the Reich in which approximately 900 planes have dropped nearly 900 tons of bombs in less than 10 days.

The assaults were carried out with a loss of 15 U. S. bombers—killed at roughly one and one-half per cent of the force dispatched. Five fighters also failed to return.

The raids, in swift follow-up to (Turn to Page Seven)

Report of Change in Cabinet Denied
Washington, Feb. 22.—(P)—Navy Secretary Jesse Jones, commenting on reports published in Boston that he might succeed Secretary Morgenthau in cabinet shift, said today: "There is nothing to the report."

Boston, Feb. 22.—(P)—Joseph Kennedy, former ambassador to the Court of St. James, has been invited by President Roosevelt to serve in his cabinet as secretary of commerce, the Boston Herald reported today.

The paper said Kennedy, Boston-born and Harvard educated, is considering the post at his home in Palm Beach, Fla. Quoting a "reliable authority," the Herald said that Jesse Jones, sent commerce secretary, would replace Henry Morgenthau, as secretary of the treasury. The newspaper added that Morgenthau now is absent from his recuperating from a heart attack.

Lieutenant Gets Even With Soldier in Ranks

By the Associated Press
Camp MacKall, N. C., Feb. 22.—When a new lieutenant of small stature and fragile appearance was assigned to a company here, a voice in the ranks boomed: "And a little child shall lead them."

On the bulletin board next morning was the announcement: "The company will take a 25 mile hike today with a full pack—and a little child shall lead them."

92 Japanese Ships Sunk In Three Weeks
Knox Couples Disclosures With Warning Against Too Much Optimism

MARINES ARE ACTIVE
By MORRIS LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor
Destruction of 92 Japanese vessels in the last three weeks was reported by Secretary of the Navy Knox today, while American commanders told of attacks by sea and air against enemy bases from Paramushiro to Rabaul.

Knox coupled his disclosure of heavy Japanese shipping losses with the warning that "there is nothing to justify any estimates of an early end of the war in the Pacific." At his press conference, he spoke of undue optimism as the result of the audacious assault on Truk, Nipponese naval stronghold in the central Carolines.

U. S. soldiers and Marines captured stubbornly-defended Eniwetok island while air and surface units pounded adjacent Parry island to put the finishing touches on the successful six-day-old invasion of Eniwetok atoll at the western edge of the Marshalls.

In a new victory against the enemy's weakened shipping, General Douglas MacArthur reported that American air patrols destroyed nine enemy freighters and escort vessels as they attempted to flee Rabaul, New Britain. A 6,000-ton Japanese vessel was sunk at Wewak, New Guinea, taking enemy losses for an week to 44 ships in the Bismarck archipelago alone.

Completing a cycle of potent attacks on Japanese positions throughout their system of Pacific defense bases, navy fliers returned to the Kuriles chain to bomb Paramushiro and Shumushu islands at the far northern end of Nipponese home territory. Not a plane was lost.

More than a thousand miles to the south, army and navy planes damaged airfields, strated shipping and hit ground installations in raids on three Marshalls atolls still held by the Japanese. Warships joined in the same day to shell other enemy-held positions in the mid-Pacific group of coral islands threatened by American capture of Kwajalein and invasion of Eniwetok.

POULTRY FAMINE IN PHILLY
Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—(P)—A poultry famine has developed here because farmers are by-passing the city for New York and Baltimore markets where, under an OPA order ruling, they may charge one cent a pound more, a spokesman for the Associated Butchers of Philadelphia alleged today.

The Germans have lost heavily in the push which failed to smash through the Allied front at any point. Large-scale German attacks continued.

NEITHER SIDE GAINS GROUND ON BEACHHEAD

Heavy Artillery Barrages And Fierce Infantry Clashes Mark Fighting Below Rome

NO DECISIVE ACTIONS
By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Allied Headquarters, Naples, Feb. 22.—(P)—Heavy artillery barrages and small but fierce infantry clashes marked the fighting yesterday in the Allied beachhead below Rome, where, Fifth Army officers said today, savage American and British resistance and their counter-attacks definitely have beaten the Nazi all-out drive to push the Allies into the sea.

American front-line troops and the Germans fired everything they had at one another at two points yesterday, but neither side gained any ground. This was equally true after British troops clashed with the Germans in several local fights near the key road junction of Carroceto.

Allied artillery, in a fierce exchange of fire throughout the day, shelled German infantry and tanks forming up around Aprilia "factory" east of Carroceto and apparently broke up preparations for a renewed enemy attack. None developed.

As another day passed without decisive action, either on the main front around Cassino or at the beachhead, Fifth Army spokesmen interpreted relaxation of German pressure against the beachhead as meaning the German offensive to erase it had failed for the second time since the Allies landed below Rome just a month ago.

At the coastal end of the main southern front in the lower Garigliano region British troops engaged in several small clashes with the Germans, but around the vital highway town of Cassino and the equally bomb-battered Abbey Hill overlooking it, only patrols were active. Guns of both sides shelled back and forth.

On the Eighth Army front across the peninsula, Allied artillery fire scattered two small German attacks toward Indian-held positions in the Orsogna area yesterday. A Polish patrol killed four Germans northwest of Sant' Angelo.

12-YEAR-OLD MUSIC PUPIL GRABS CHANCE
Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—(P)—A 12-year-old grade school music pupil got his big chance yesterday and he grabbed it.

Associate Conductor Saul Caston leading the Philadelphia Orchestra at a children's concert, offered to hand over his baton to anyone in the audience who was a music student and had a birthday in February.

Walter Loeb, violin pupil, jumped up, hurried to the platform, and swung the orchestra through a martial reading of "Yankee Doodle."

Waiting in Line Hard On Hearing Apparatus

Chicago, Feb. 22.—(P)—There was a long line at the Internal Revenue offices in suburban Oak Park, among them an elderly woman who wore a hearing apparatus, waiting to receive aid in filling out income tax forms.

As she reached the head of the line a field deputy asked what services she needed.

"I can't hear a word you're saying," she shouted to the deputy. "I've stood in line so long my battery has run down and now I'll have to get a new battery. But I'll be back later."

Lawyer Held As Result of Fatal Shooting
Dean of the Washington Municipal Court Attorneys Involved in Case

PSYCHIATRIST IS KILLED
Washington, Feb. 22.—(P)—Robert I. Miller, 67, dean of Washington municipal court attorneys, was held on an open charge today in connection with the fatal shooting of a noted capital psychiatrist while Mrs. Miller, whom police described as one corner of a love triangle, was near collapse.

The dead man was Dr. John E. Lind, 57, a kin of Abraham Lincoln, and senior medical officer at Washington's St. Elizabeth's hospital. Police said Mrs. Miller, who gave her age as 42, had entered Lind's automobile at the corner of 11th and G streets, northwest—the heart of the capital's shopping center—about 1:20 p. m. yesterday.

Almost immediately Miller appeared, reached into the car, struggled with Lind and Lind was shot, once through the temple and again through the chest.

Detective Sergeant Robert Murray who reported Miller told him he had shot in self-defense, said that in addition to the pistol used in the shooting another was found on the seat of the car beside Lind, wrapped in an envelope. It had been discharged twice, but according to Murray apparently had not been used yesterday.

Traffic Policeman Ernest B. Dickerson arrested Miller and detained Mrs. Miller as a material witness. He said Miller, when arrested, had been holding a .38 caliber pistol.

SCHOOL LIBRARIAN DIES
Butler, Feb. 22.—(P)—Miss Grace Alina Patterson, president of the Pennsylvania Council of School Librarians the past six years and an officer of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, died yesterday.

The appearance of Corbett's name on a list approved by Herron was taken to mean that the party breach was healed. Both ran for county commissioner in the general election last November, Herron winning re-election as minority commissioner.

HITLER LOSING GRIP ON VITAL IRON ORE CITY

Fall of Important Town Would Constitute One Of Hardest Industrial Blows to Fuehrer

ENCIRCLE LARGE FORCE
BULLETIN
London, Feb. 22.—(P)—The Berlin radio announced today the evacuation of Krivoi Rog, iron ore city in the lower Dnieper bend. DNB, German news agency, said the German troops moved out at noon yesterday after destroying military installations in the town.

Previously the German communiqué announced heavy house-to-house fighting was going on in Krivoi Rog.

By EDDIE GILMORE
Moscow, Feb. 22.—(P)—The Red army pushed into the inner defenses of Krivoi Rog today in a thrust so powerful that it seemed unlikely the Germans would be able to retain their grip much longer on this important iron ore and communications center in the Dnieper bend.

The fall of Krivoi Rog, coming on top of the loss of the manganese center of Nikopol, would constitute one of the hardest industrial blows the Nazi war machine has suffered since the beginning of the Russian winter offensive.

A Soviet communiqué said that Russian troops had driven yesterday into the outskirts of the city, through which one of two German-held railways runs west from the Dnieper bend. The other line parallels it about 20 miles to the southeast.

A drive across these lines by the Red army would trap a German force probably larger than the 10 divisions previously encircled and crushed in the Cherkassy pocket 140 miles to the northwest, field dispatches indicated.

On the northern end of the front, the Russian war bulletin said, Soviet forces captured the big German base of Kholm, midway between Lake Imen and Novosokolniki, and a number of other points, including the town (Turn to Page Seven)

London, Feb. 22.—(P)—Mrs. Mohandas K. Gandhi, wife of the Indian leader, is dead, the New Delhi radio said today.

Mrs. Gandhi, 74, had suffered intermittently from heart attacks at Poona where she was detained with her husband. Last Sunday an official announcement said her condition had taken a grave turn.

Labor Draft May Be Issue Of Campaign
Sponsors Let It Be Known They Will Not Attempt To Force Showdown

TEST VOTE IS DELAYED
By JACK BELL
Washington, Feb. 22.—(P)—National Service legislation was marked today for a presidential campaign issue when sponsors let it be known that they will make no attempt to force a showdown in congress on the subject before the November election.

Despite recent War and Navy department pressure for early action, members said the senate military committee probably would delay a test vote for several months.

Secretary of War Stimson already has endorsed the proposal to make men and women subject to a work draft and the committee has arranged to hear Navy Secretary Knox on Thursday.

Knox is expected to make a strong plea that the measure be considered favorably at once.

Current sentiment within the committee apparently is about three to one against the proposal.

While Senator Austin (R-Vt.), one of the authors of the bill, said he hoped it would not become the subject of partisan debate, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he did not see how it could fail to become an issue because of violent opposition by organized labor.

Prelude to Final Smashing of Reich Outlined in Speech

Allied Bombings Far Beyond Anything Yet "Employed Or Indeed Imagined" Are Promised by British Prime Minister

NAZIS BELIEVED PREPARING RETALITORY MEANS
By JAMES M. LONG
London, Feb. 22.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill told the world today that Allied bombing far beyond anything yet "employed or indeed imagined" would strike Germany in every corner in prelude to the final smashing by American and British invasion armies of "approximately equal" power.

The three great Allies still stand "absolutely united" and "none of the ground made good at Moscow or Teheran" has been lost, despite disquieting articles in the Soviet press, the British war leader asserted in a confident, but cautious, war review in commons.

The Allies stand united on war plans which make certain a victory that "may not be so far away," he declared.

Churchill said he could neither guarantee that the war would finish in Europe this year, or extend into 1945, and declared Hitler still a scale "far beyond the dimensions of anything which yet has been employed or indeed imagined."

But Allied leaders are confident of success, and reinforcements are pouring in from Africa.

Other main highlights of Churchill's first war review since the Teheran and Cairo conferences: Air offensive: The U. S. bomber force in Britain "now begins to surpass our own and soon will be greater still."

This war campaign against Germany—the foundation for invasion and "our chief offensive effort at present"—will reach a scale "far beyond the dimensions of anything which yet has been employed or indeed imagined."

With long-range bombers hitting Germany from Italy as well as Britain.

Retaliation: "The Germans are preparing on the French shore new means of attack on this country either by pilotless aircraft or possibly rockets or both on considerable scale" but vigilant Allied air commands are "striking at all evidences of these preparations."

Invasion: While the British and American forces will be relatively equal at the outset, if this battle is prolonged "the continuous flow of reinforcements will make their force the greater."

Italy: The "forces in the bridgehead are well matched" but "we see definitely stronger in artillery and armor" and air power. The fact there are "something like half a million Germans now in Italy is not unwelcome to the Allies" giving the opportunity to fight the Nazis. "We have sufficient forces at our disposal in Africa to nourish the struggle as fast as they can be transported across the Mediterranean."

Japan: The air power of Japan also is being overmatched and worn down, and Japan's production is "uncomparably small compared with that of the great powers Japan has assailed."

Naval: British action alone has sunk 19 enemy warships and many auxiliaries since Jan. 1, 1943, and (Turn to Page Seven)

Changing Name of Skim Milk Draws Senatorial Sarcasm
By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington, Feb. 22.—(P)—Now that congress has decided to pettify the name of skim milk, Senator Overton (D-La.) thinks it might be well to do something about spinach.

His voice dripping with sarcasm, he suggested: "Why not change the name of spinach to 'health and strength greens'? The very name for spinach is revolting to the human palate as a rule."

He notes that despite what people say of spinach and the health with it, it will still be spinach, no matter what it's called, but so will skim milk. That's why he was against legislation sent to the White House yesterday to invest skim milk with three new legal titles—"dried milk solids," "defatted milk solids," and "non-fat milk solids."

Senator Clark (D-Mo.) argued the change was needed because "skim" is a "repulsive" word that is slowing up the sale of an otherwise healthful food product.

But Overton—an old skim milk drinker himself—said the change was actually an attempt to mislead the public.

Skim milk is skim milk, he told the senate, and operating under any new name it'll still be skim milk.

Boy Drowns Despite Effort to Save Him
Johnstown, Feb. 22.—(P)—David Jones, 9, drowned in four or five feet of water in Black Lick creek at Nanty-Glo yesterday, after he had broken through ice, despite a desperate effort by his father to save him.

Called from his nearby home by David's playmates, the father, William Jones, waded into the icy water, holding one end of a wire. He was but a few feet from his son when the boy slipped under the ice and vanished. Almost at the same time, Jones' legs gave way under him and he had to be pulled to the shore by the boys.

Five hours later Conemaugh firemen found David's body, 12 feet from the spot where he broke through the ice.

Three Cars Crashed At Intersection

Police were called upon yesterday to investigate an automobile crash at the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and Pine street. It was found that there were three cars involved in the accident and the damage in the wreck will amount to quite a large sum.

The cars in the wreck were those of Francis Font, 1313 1/2 Pennsylvania avenue west who was driving west on Pennsylvania avenue. At Pine street the traffic light at the school house was changing and he went through on the change, according to the police report. Gabriel Lucia, 1307 Sill street driving south on Pine street came out of that street onto the avenue and hit Font's car shoving it into a machine owned by Russell Bitterman, 765 Prospect street, Buffalo, N. Y.

In the reports made at the police station Bitterman estimated his damage at $100 and the other cars involved were also damaged to a large degree.

The car of Homer Mohr, parked in front of his printing plant, on Pennsylvania avenue was also damaged when a car skidded into it. This damage was adjusted.

Warren was without air mail service on Saturday but it was resumed yesterday when one of the mail planes on Saturday was damaged in the take-off at James town. The mail was rerouted on trains.

The plane was damaged about the under carriage and propeller when it attempted to take off at 4:22 p. m. for the afternoon southbound trip. The craft's landing gear was crumpled on the left side as it was leaving the ground. It swung around causing the propeller to dig into a snow bank, bending the tips of the blade. The fuselage was undamaged, according to Pilot David Patterson, who along with mail clerk, Edward Lowden was uninjured in the accident.

A repair crew of four men was dispatched from Pittsburgh to make repairs to the big Stinson plane and they speeded repairs and had the plane ready to take to the air on Sunday.

Students Will Present Play At PTA Meet

Youngsville, Feb. 21—The Youngsville High School Dramatic Club is presenting a very interesting one act play, "The Ring and the Look," at the meeting of the Parent Teacher's Association meeting Tuesday evening, February 22 in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Those taking part in the play are Ruth Carlson, Philip Baumgardner, Eva Goodwill, Carlton Olsen, Peggy Solberg, Lois Walter, and Priscilla Watson. Complications arise in the drama over the ring, and it is a question of "who gets the ring?"

The public as well as members of the Parent Teachers Association are very cordially invited to enjoy the play and stay to the business session and the exhibit of the work of pupils of the third and fourth grades which will be shown in their grade rooms. These monthly exhibits of the work of the pupils in different grades and departments are taking the place of the former spring exhibit of the entire school which were good but rather taxing as parents and friends spent a long time in going from room to room.

LAYMEN CONDUCT SERVICE

With the topic, "The Church at its Best", Methodist men conducted the morning service in the Methodist church, Sunday Feb. 20. H. H. Husted presided at the meeting with laymen speaking. Warren Jones, William Clark and Robert Albright. Each speaker approached the subject in an interesting and inspiring manner but from slightly different viewpoints.

DINNER TO SERVICE MEN

The High School Senior class of 1944 gave a dinner this last week in the gymnasium, in honor of members of their class who are leaving for the armed forces. Kenneth Bradway acted as toastmaster. Calling on all these men that are entering the service as he presented them each with a gift from the class. Those who will leave Monday, February 21st are Jack Woods, Norge Luvison, and Jack Davis. Those who passed their examination in Erie and are waiting call in the near future are: Nick Spear, Steve Sevok, and Thomas Olds. Mention was made of the three boys from this class that have already gone, Norris, Frechborough, Jimmie Ferrin and Harold Cobb.

There were nearly sixty members of the class present at the dinner, besides the guests whom they had invited from the faculty. These were acting principal Miss Augusta Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Borton, Miss Elizabeth Bittle, Miss Ruth Wagenknecht, and Miss Mary Handler. The faculty members reported that the dinner was a regular banquet and that it was entirely prepared and served by members of the graduating class. The chairman and co-chairman for each committee was: entertainment, Josephine Vangulder, and Betty Joe Zelliff; dinner, Patricia McKinney, and Norma See; clean up, Louis Franklin and Marion Danielson. A program of games followed the dinner.

BIRTHDAY DATE SET

Warren County Girl Scout Council has selected Tuesday, March 7, for its 32nd birthday party; the festivities to take place at the YWCA activities building with dinner at 6:15 p. m.

FLIES FOR VISIT

Major E. J. DeVore, of the Civil Air Patrol in Washington, D. C., piloting a Fairchild B-24, has just spent three days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeVore, at Tidouate.

SCHOOL IS PROUD

The small one-room Sutton Hill school in Deerfield township, where ten of the eleven pupils are of Polish ancestry, is very proud of its showing in the Fourth War Loan, its teacher reporting a sales total of $250. In addition, these youngsters have helped in many other wartime activities and are 100 per cent Junior Red Cross members.

SEVERAL MINOR CRASHES

Police have been called upon during the past days to investigate a number of minor automobile crashes about town due to the slippery condition of the roads. Motorists are urged to exercise great care in driving on the snow covered pavements and to apply their brakes with caution to avert skids. One crash on Pennsylvania avenue, east, involved damage of about $75 due to the skidding of a car.

HOUSES ARE RAZED

The Wallace and Miller houses on Second avenue have been entirely razed and in the destruction of the buildings some fine timbers were recovered. They were clear pine and attracted much attention. The contractor in charge of the work is making excellent time and it is expected that foundations for the new $100,000 building of the Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., will be under way in the near future.

FACTORY EMPLOYMENT

This five-county industrial area includes Clarion, Forest, McKean, Venango, and Warren counties. Factory employment in the area averaged 11,975 in the period from 1935 to 1939. The war brought a steady expansion in employment until a peak of 15,588 was reached in the first 10 months of 1943. Employment during 1943 was about 30% above the volume reported from 1935 to 1939. If employment in the postwar period shrinks to that found in the 1935-1939 period it would mean a reduction of 3,613 employees or 23% from present levels.

Fathers And Sons To Hear Fine Program

A well-rounded program of good fellowship, good entertainment, good food and good talks is in store for those who attend the Y. M. C. A. Father and Son banquet to be held Friday evening of this week and for which the advance reservation lists promises a fine gathering of boys and dads.

It is evident that all the boys from nine to ninety are eager to see and hear "Sherman the Magician", who has been Chaplain of the International Brotherhood of Magicians for the past seven years—an artist with a record of 900 programs in New York and Pennsylvania, including scores of return engagements. Sherman H. Epler ("Sherman") has had write-ups in such national magazines as Life, Readers Digest, Pathfinder, and others, so he is a recognized leader in his field.

Gail Barker, well-known member of the Y's young men's group, will serve as chairman and toastmaster, and several younger boys will take part in the program, including Terry Thurn (and his trombone), Dean Blair, Don Wood, Harold Foreman and Murray Jennings. Men who will take part are W. E. Yeager, representing the Board and Boys Work Committee, Harold S. Hampson, speaking for the fathers, and General Secretary Ralph H. Wagner.

All reservations for the dinner should be in at the "Y" office by tomorrow night. Tickets can be gotten in advance, or purchased just before the dinner hour, which is 6:15 o'clock. Boys who want to attend but who lack a father for the evening for some reason, should contact Mr. Wagner to arrange for "adoption" for the banquet. Any men willing to serve as "fathers" for such boys are also asked to tell Mr. Wagner of their willingness.

During the past seven years, Institutes of International Understanding have been sponsored by nearly 700 Rotary Clubs in the United States and Canada. Through these institutes an effort has been made to bring to individuals and to communities a thoughtful study of world problems and their ultimate solution by the application of intelligence, understanding and good will.

Arrangements for the institute program in Warren are under the direction of Ralph Wagner, chairman; Dean Anderson, Dr. Hilding Bengt, Robert Capell, Dr. LeRoy Campbell, George Craft, Clarence Swanson, T. R. Sponsler and William E. Yeager.

AID TO A DECISION

This fall we must elect a President. It is a duty as fateful as any that American voters have ever had to discharge, and it is not a duty to be approached with indifference.

We all know, at least basically, the crucial importance of the tasks that the next President must face. How these tasks are performed depends, of course, upon our wisdom in the choice of a man to perform them. Whoever the candidates shall be, then, we must examine their strengths and weaknesses with care, and weigh their comparative merits sanely, with as little partisan prejudice as partisan American voters can achieve.

But what are the ideal qualifications of a President which may serve as a model in deciding between the two candidates of 1944? Perhaps the best answer to that question is to be found in words spoken by Daniel Webster 112 years ago today, on the centennial anniversary of the birth of George Washington:

"In the first place, all his measures were right in their intent. To commanding talents and to success, he added a disregard of self, a spotlessness of motive, a steady submission to every public and private duty, which threw forever into the shade the whole crowd of vulgar great.

"The object of his regard was the whole country. No part of it was enough to fill his enlarged patriotism. His love of glory, so far as that may be supposed to have influenced him at all, spurned everything short of general approbation. It would have been nothing to him that his partisans or his favorites outnumbered, or outvoted, or outmaneuvered, or outclimbed those of other leaders.

"His principle it was to act right, and to trust the people for support; his principle it was not to follow the lead of sinister and selfish ends, nor to rely on the little arts of party delusion to obtain public sanction for such a course. Born for his country and mankind, he did not give up to party what was meant for mankind."

There, in the first President, as seen through the penetrating mind of Webster, is a model of political virtue which no crisis could dominate or conquer. We should all do well to study it honestly and carefully. For the 1944 candidate whose intrinsic qualities most closely resemble those described above can safely be entrusted with the job of leading this nation through the four trying years that are ahead.

It is, we believe, as simple as that.

SEND IT V-MAIL!

At least three out of every five letters to servicemen mailed from every local post office should be sent V-Mail to release badly needed cargo space, Army and Navy Post Offices declare.

Not only are V-Mail letters certain of delivery, but they save 98 per cent, in cargo space. Each V-Mail letter is photographed and reduced on film to thumb-nail size. One roll of film, weighing about seven ounces, holds about 1,800 letters.

The 200 million V-Mail letters sent overseas to soldiers since June, 1942, have released cargo space amounting to nearly five million cargo pounds—enough to transport 32,876 men, or two divisions. The space saved was enough to transport: 496,428 Garand rifles, or 1,323,809 units of blood plasma, or 2,298,280 units of K rations, or 62,209,392 rounds of .30 caliber cartridges, or 5,791,666 dozens of surgical dressings.

Improvements in V-Mail facilities are being made constantly. Today the Army has V-Mail installations in every large overseas base post office. The Navy has 15 times the number of V-Mail stations it had a year ago.

In this country V-Mail letters dropped at the local post office or handed to the postman are automatically dispatched to New York, San Francisco, or Chicago. From there it is flown to its destination—in whatever part of the world. When V-Mail is used, two transport planes can do the work of 100 similar planes carrying the same number of standard and air mail letters.

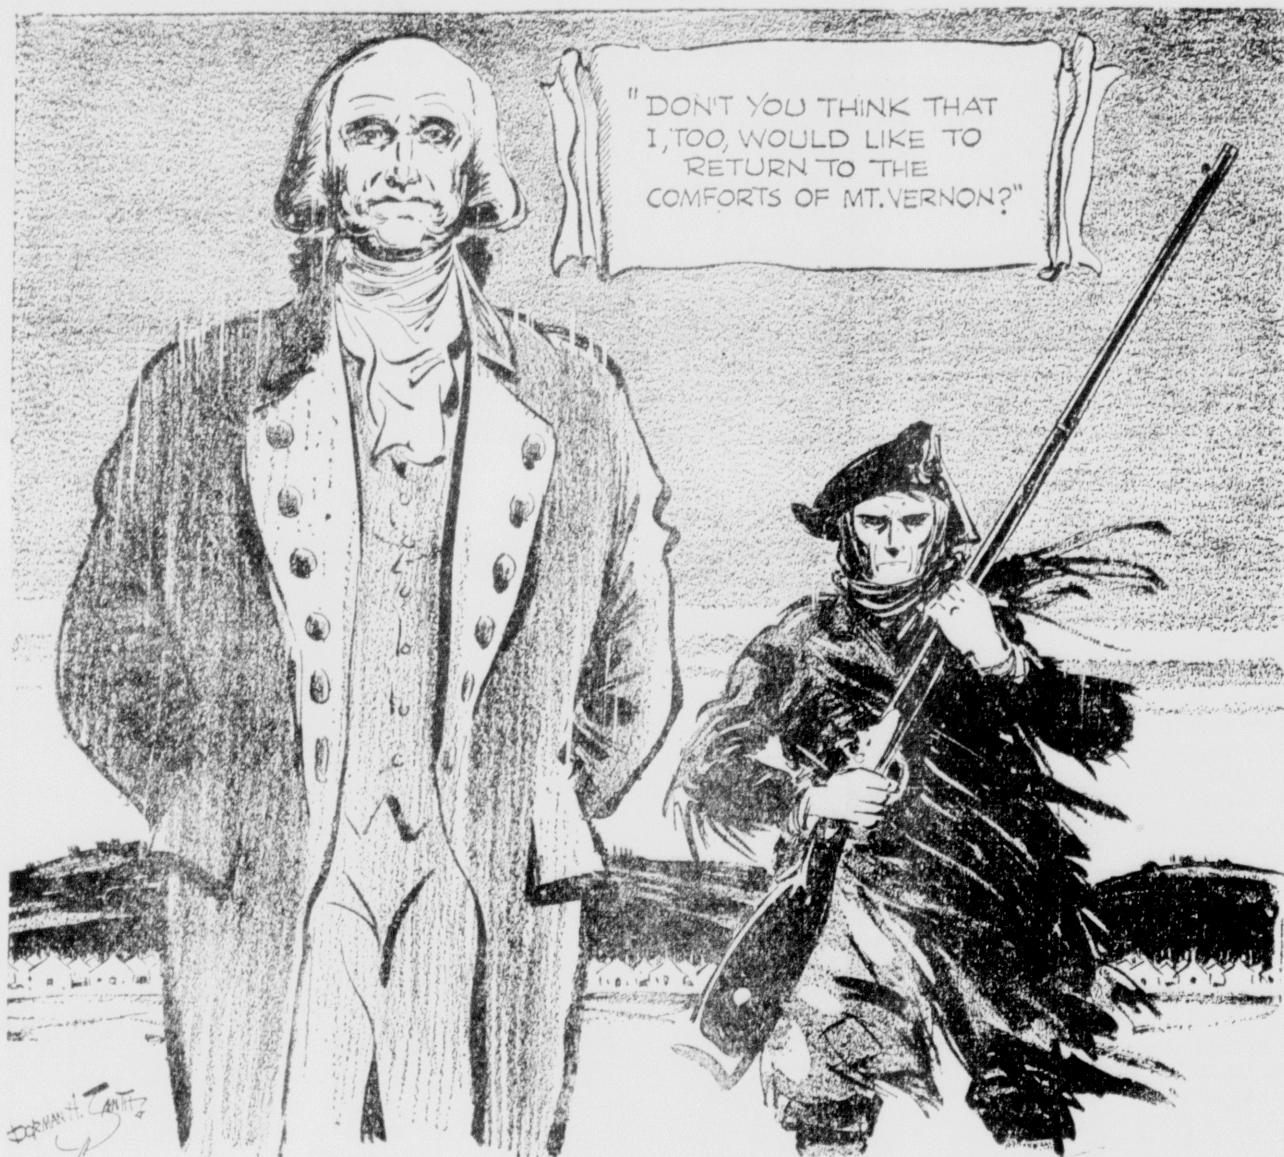

Speaking of the first breath of spring, more and more Warren people will be raising their own green onions this year.

Who Are We to Complain of War's Sacrifices?

Next Tuesday To Be Red Cross Radio Day

New York, Feb. 22.—(P)—It will be "Red Cross Day" on all networks next Tuesday from sign-on to sign-off. The purpose is to help in getting under way the 1944 War Fund drive with a goal of $200,000,000 which is to continue through March.

As being arranged, each program on the day's schedule is to have something to say or do about the Red Cross, with here and there special broadcasts entirely Red Cross.

Added to its schedule for 10:15 a. m. Thursday, MBS announces, is a description of the launching of the carrier, Shangri La. It has been decided to continue indef-nately the Dave Elman victory auctions on MBS Saturday evenings. Originally the program was planned as feature of Fourth War Loan Drive.

POSTERS DISTRIBUTED

Boy Scout Dispatch bearers were on the job again Saturday to distribute the regular bi-monthly supply of posters from the Office of War Information to the merchants of Warren. The posters will be on display for a two week period. A new poster with a new message will be distributed again on Saturday, March 4th, by the Scouts. The Scouts who were on the job Saturday were Wilmer Latshaw and Warren Lowe of the First Methodist church Troop No. 9, and Scouts Richard Swick and Raymond Streich of the First Presbyterian Church Troop No. 4.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1924

Word has been received from Youngsville that the Go Ahead has been received for the remodeling of its post office of that town. The post office is now serving about 3000 persons and the improvements will cost about $10,000. A new front will be placed in the building, new boxes and other equipment installed.

At its last meeting Akeley Grange initiated nine new candidates. The Grange is growing nicely and is one of the active and progressive organizations of the county.

The girls basketball team from Ludlow descended on Sheffield Saturday night and when the powder had cleared away the Ludlow lasses were the victors with a score of 35 to 13.

The "Colonels" of the Jefferson class of the First Presbyterian church met last evening in the church and decided to use their influence in furtherance of the plan of E. E. Allen to plant maple trees along the Warren-Jamestown highway.

J. P. Fenstermacher, who for several years has been located in Johnstown, has arrived in Warren and will be in charge of the local offices in this city of the electric company.

In 1924

For the first time in many years the electrical equipment used in the thawing of pipes has been brought out of storage and put to use. Fred Schaeffer is in charge of the equipment and is busy about the town getting water lines opened for use.

Records are being broken throughout the county as the mercury sinks low almost every night. At Youngsville this week thermometers dropped to 37 degrees below zero which is plenty chilly.

Sunday next will be a great day in the history of the Warren Lodge of Moose. A big class will be initiated and the Erie degree team will be on hand accompanied by their band. Moose and their ladies from various towns in this section will be here to the number of 600 or more and a great day is promised for all who participate.

The Minister school in Forest county has been destroyed by fire and it is a great loss to the directors of Howe township. The blaze caught in the upper portion of the building and spread so rapidly all efforts to quench the fire were fruitless.

The Ludlow Garage was partially destroyed by fire Saturday morning during the cold weather. Two automobiles in the garage one owned by Clair Wilcox and another by Mr. Grey were damaged by the flames.

George Washington Parke Custis, son of Martha Washington, declared that of the many portraits of his illustrious stepfather, George Washington, that he had seen, the one reproduced above was the best likeness. The portrait, which is now owned by the Cleveland Museum of Art, was painted by Joseph Wright, Colonial artist, about 1790, when Washington was 55 years old. In 1815, Thomas Shields, Alexandria, Va., tavern-keeper who belonged to the same Masonic lodge in which Washington was active, was so struck by the likeness that he bought the portrait.

In 1857 his daughter showed it to Custis, who endorsed Shields' opinion. The measurements of the face in the portrait are identical with those of the Washington statue which the French sculptor, Jean Antoine Houdon, made from life at Mount Vernon. The Cleveland Museum purchased the painting from Mrs. G. L. McKean, the widow of the tavern-keeper's grandson.

Jean Antoine Boudon's famed marble bust of George Washington, now in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

'Forever Revered'

"Let it be known that he who wears the Order of the Purple Heart has given of his blood in the defense of his homeland and shall forever be revered by his fellow countrymen."
—Geo. Washington

The Order of the Purple Heart, which has been awarded to over 50,000 American fighters in this war, was established by George Washington on Aug. 7, 1783, as a tribute to the then little-appreciated "buck private in the rear rank." It was given to only three persons during the Revolution, then dropped, although in 1932 made retroactive for World War I veterans. It is interesting to note that in addition to members of the armed services, Purple Hearts have been given to noncombatant newspaper war correspondents, many of whom have been killed or wounded in action.

By ED CREEGH

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—(P)—The tall, stern-eyed Virginian was tired of great affairs.

His sandy hair had whitened and his temper had grown short in the bitter struggle for American freedom.

"I wish most devoutly," he wrote, "to glide silently and unnoticed through the remainder of my life. This is my heart felt wish; and these are my undisguised feelings."

But a few months later he became the first president of the United States, and his dream of retirement to the "innocent and useful pursuits" of the gentleman farmer moved eight turbulent years into the future.

The story may be read today in George Washington's own round, vigorous handwriting. Thirteen letters that the first president wrote to Arthur Young, a noted English agriculturist, are carefully preserved at the Rosenbach Company galleries.

Most of them written while he occupied the now-vanished executive mansion in Philadelphia, then the National Capitol, the wide-margined manuscripts throw new light on a man who thought of himself as farmer rather than soldier or statesman.

"Agriculture has ever been among the most favored of my amusements," wrote the squire of Mount Vernon—complaining, like a soil conservationist of today, that American lands "were originally very good; but use, and abuse, have made them quite otherwise."

In those days—when farm wages "may be said to vibrate with white men, between ten and fifteen pounds and for black men between eight and twelve pounds"—a year's lend-lease flow was from England to America; Washington asked for seeds and farm equipment.

Toward the end of the correspondence the weary president "entertained serious thoughts" of renting most of his Mount Vernon estate, "reserving the mansion house farm for my own residence—occupation and amusement in agriculture."

His usual reserve dropped like a discarded cloak as, in the language of a modern real estate ad, he described Mount Vernon: "It is situated in a latitude between the extremes of heat and cold, and is the same distance by land and water, with good roads and the best navigation (to and from the federal city)—which he modestly refrained from calling "Washington."

The new capital, he added, "is increasing fast in buildings, and rising into consequence; and will, I have no doubt, x x x become the emporium of the United States."

If he could see it now . . . Each Liberator bomber requires more than 300,000 rivets. To save the worker time in finding the size, the rivets are now packed in cellophane bags, stamped with the size.

Hollywood Might Well Look to Local Club For "Junior Miss" Leading Lady

In Louella O. Parson's column of Saturday, February 19, from which we quote, she says: "David Selznick would give a pretty penny to get 'Junior Miss' from Mary Pickford to star Shirley Temple. Somehow I doubt if Mary will let go. The yarn ('Junior Miss') is a favorite of hers, although she would like nothing better than having Miss 'T', for the heroine. Mary almost had the ball rolling to film 'Junior Miss' when she suddenly cancelled the production. I remember my telephone didn't stop ringing with eager mama on the wire to tell that they had 'the only child in America' who should play 'Junior Miss'."

All that we can say is that Hollywood can look for the "only child in America" who should play "Junior Miss", and get in touch with the Warren Players who has a real actress already playing "Junior Miss" like a veteran. We refer to Miss Barbara Boynton who is being starred in the character of Judy Graves in the forthcoming production of the Warren Players March 2-3.

Other talented young people in support of Miss Boynton are Miss Karol Kirberger as Fuffy Adams; Miss Jean McGarry as Lois Graves; Nik Geracimos as Tommy Arbuckle; Jack Cooney as Merrill Feurbach; Dick Blair as Haskell Cummings; Duane Wilder as Joe; William Hill, Jr., as Barlow Adams; William F. Clinger, Jr., as the Western Union Boy; Allen Langhans as Albert Kennedy; John Erickson as Sterling Brown; Bob Wilder as Charles and Tom Schor-man as Henry.

New and talented actresses and actors are also being presented by the Players in Ruth Svanoe as Grace Graves and Carl Johnson as her harassed husband, Harry Graves.

Gerry Archibald is particularly deserving of praise and the gratitude of the Players for having stepped into the difficult role of Willis Reynolds and handling it in an excellent manner. Appearing opposite Mr. Archibald is one of the veteran and talented members of the Players, Kay Frantz as Ellen Curtis. William Hill Sr. whose performances are always of a finished quality, is very convincing as "J.B." Curtis. One of the funniest parts on the entire play is that of Hilda, the maid, being ably presented by Kathleen Hyatt.

Box office hours for reservations for "Junior Miss", which will also appear in later issues of the Times-Mirror, are Monday, February 28, 7:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m.; Tuesday, February 29, 5:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m.; Wednesday, March 1, 5:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m. and Thursday and Friday evenings, the nights of the play from 7:00 p. m. until curtain time. Those wishing to make reservations by phone may do so by calling Warren 776. Mail order reservations are being accepted now.

Patrons are especially requested to pick up their reservations before the night they intend to attend the play so that undue confusion may be avoided at the box office at that time.

YWCA Directors Plan Activities of Coming Weeks

Seventeen members of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors met at the home of Mrs. W. F. Bennett, Water street for Shrove Tuesday pancakes prior to their monthly meeting last night. This has been a yearly observance at the home of Mrs. Bennett and the donations by guests were put in the World Service Fund for Y. W. C. A. work throughout the world.

The meeting was opened with devotion by Mrs. Bennett and she also quoted from the February issue of the National Y. W. C. A. magazine, the Woman's Press. In addition to the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's reports, there were the reports of the general secretary, Girl Reserve secretary, reports of the business girls' clubs, religious and world fellowship committee, finance committee, education and recreation committee, house and cafeteria committee and the membership committee.

The constitution of the Council of Community Agencies was approved and Mrs. Carl Lundahl, president, and Miss Mary Church, general secretary, will represent the Y. W. C. A.

Announcement was made of the nationwide observance for business girls to be held on Thursday, March 16th; the second Y. W. C. A. "At Home" on Friday, March 17, and the annual Lenten tea for Saturday, March 25th.

It was reported that about 50 guests attended the YW's first "at home" held last Friday, when the educational and recreation committee served tea and informal talks on the work of the association were given by Mrs. Carl Lundahl, Miss Mary Church and Mrs. W. F. Bennett.

Former Warren Couple Observed Golden Wedding at Kane Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett W. Gibson, 113 Burch street, Kane, were entertained with a family dinner at 1:30 o'clock Sunday at the New Thomson hotel, celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Following the dinner, the honored couple received their friends from four until seven o'clock at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Earl Davis, 34 Burch street.

The beautiful tea table was centered with tallsmen roses and gold candles. Presiding were Mrs. Leo G. Gibson and Mrs. Curtis W. Gibson, daughters-in-law of the couple. Mrs. E. H. Watkins and Mrs. Monroe Means served the three-tiered wedding cake, which was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

During the course of the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson received congratulations from over 100 guests. The Rev. W. T. Thoms, pastor of the Congregational church, of Kane, presented them with a purse of money in behalf of their well wishing friends.

As the guests were leaving the home, they registered in the wedding book, which was presented the honored couple by the Rev. W. F. Fenton, who performed the wedding ceremony of Emmett W. Gibson, of Clymer, N. Y. and Blanche M. Johnson, of Garland, at Ripley, N. Y., on February 21, 1894. To this union were born three children: two sons, Leo D. and Curtis W. Gibson, both of Warren; one daughter, Mrs. Grace G. Davis, of Kane.

The great number of gifts and floral tokens received by the couple showed the high esteem with which they are held in the community.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Leo D. Gibson and daughters, Joanne and Ellen, and son, Thomas Emmett; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis W. Gibson and daughter, Jerry, Mrs. Nels Anderson, Mrs. Fern Bjers, Mrs. William Munn, all of Warren; Mrs. Laura Casey, of Youngville; Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Hyer, of Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis, Russell City.

County Heads Plan Meeting At Greensburg

County heads from several counties in this end of the state will hold a meeting in Greensburg Friday from the hours of 10 to 4. Warren county's commissioners George Seavy, P. C. Ostergard and John O. Hanna with Solicitor Alex Flick and Chief Assessor Gurney Ball will attend from this county. The meeting will discuss several of the laws passed at the last session of the legislature and will secure opinions on their administration. The Greensburg meeting is one of a series being held throughout the state. Donald Schuler, commissioner's clerk is in attendance of the State Commissioners Association and so attends all of the gatherings.

At Greensburg the commissioners will be particularly interested in plans for military ballots this year and the new assessment law. Gurney Ball, newly named chief assessor under an act of the last legislature will set in on the assessment law discussions. The new law has received several interpretations since it was enacted a year ago and several of the problems brought about by it are expected to be worked out at the Friday meeting.

ENDS 5-YEAR SIEGE OF CONSTIPATION!

"Now as Regular as Anyone!" Says H. C. Durand

Here's a sincere, unsolicited letter every disappointed "dozer" will want to read:

"I'm 32 years old, and have been constipated over 5 years, going as much as 6 days without a movement. Pills and laxatives would relieve me only for the day I took them. Next day I'd be as bad as ever. Then I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Am now on my second box, and as regular as anyone could want, thanks to regular use of your wonderful product!"

Mr. H. C. Durand, 221 N. Columbus Ave., Freeport, Long Island, N. Y.

Sounds like "magic," doesn't it? Yet, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really can, and does, get at a common cause of constipation—lack of certain dietary "cellulose" elements! That's because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! It is simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins daily. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Hans Wagner Played on Five Different Clubs During His First Year in Organized Ball

By SAM DAVIS

NEA Staff Correspondent.
Honus Wagner signed his first contract, with Steubenville, O., "William Wagner." That was his younger brother's name, and "besides the name sounded better than John."

Honus played with five different clubs that year, 1895, and already was pulling the unexpected. From Steubenville he went to Akron, but the latter club "wouldn't give newspapermen any passes so the papers just wrote the club right out of business," mused the old Flying Dutchman. From Akron Honus went to Mansfield, O., same name as his native town in Pennsylvania, but Wagner stayed only a couple of weeks here before going on to Adrian in the Michigan State League, where he was made manager.

Even in that position Wagner wasn't happy for long. In three weeks he got homesick for Pennsylvania. Rola Taylor, owner of the Adrian club, sympathized with the big Dutchman and permitted him to return home. Honus then joined his brother Al at Warren, Pa., in the Iron and Oil League. There he played out the season.

Pittsburgh signed Wagner in the spring of 1896. They wanted to send him to Kansas City. "Now I never heard of the place," said Wagner. Next Ed Barrow, now boss of the New York Yankees who then ran the Paterson N. J. club in the Atlantic League, signed him. John strung along with Barrow playing every position and compiling a healthy batting average well over .300, until the middle of June.

Then Barney Dreyfuss of the Louisville club and George Salinger of Philadelphia scouted Wagner one day. "I was having a helluva day—errors and not connecting," Honus recalled. Dreyfuss, secretary and treasurer of the Colonels, turned to George and asked: "What would you give for Wagner?"

"Heck, not even his carfare to Philadelphia," retorted Stallings. Thereupon Dreyfuss signed up Wagner, paying Paterson $2000 for him.

Wagner played with Louisville in '97, '98 and '99. In 1900 four clubs dropped out of the twelve club National League, Louisville consolidated with Pittsburgh and Wagner went along with Dreyfuss. Honus and Barney stayed together for 21 years, throughout Wagner's big league playing span.

During that time the barrel-chested giant with the hawk-like nose, who, despite his handy legs walked in a single track like an Indian so that his overlapping footprints strung out in a straight line, endeared himself to fans throughout the circuit. He was dubbed "Honus," "Hans," "The Flying Dutchman" and "Jason."

The fact that so many of the 18-year-old boys are going into the armed forces and others are awaiting call," declared Tournament Director Nobe Frank yesterday, "would make it impossible to stage a Golden Gloves tournament comparable to those of pre-war years."

Piraeus, seaport for Athens, ranked fourth in Mediterranean tonnage before the war.

Harrisburg, Feb. 22.—(P)—The Golden Gloves boxing tournament of the Harrisburg Telegraph Athletic Association has been cancelled this year due to shortage of manpower and failure to obtain Middle Atlantic Amateur Athletic Union sanction for dates approximately those of previous tournaments.

"The fact that so many of the 18-year-old boys are going into the armed forces and others are awaiting call," declared Tournament Director Nobe Frank yesterday, "would make it impossible to stage a Golden Gloves tournament comparable to those of pre-war years."

Forge, Minus Dean Nelson, is Humbled by O'Connors Five

Forge	5	1	.833
O'Connors	4	1	.800
Bakers	4	2	.666
Struthers	1	5	.166
Blomquist	0	5	.000

Want to know if the Forge team misses Dean Nelson? The answer is definitely—Yes. Last evening at the local "Y" in the basketball league O'Connors ran rough shod over the Forge combine. When the score book was totaled up it said Sheffield 68 Forge 47. Nick Otto of the Irish took the scoring honors running up a total of 27 points. In fact the whole team was hot and time after time flopped them in from all angles.

The first game of the evening found Bakers' taking Struthers in to camp 43 to 37. It was a fast rough game in spots and both teams fought hard to the end. Berdine lead the scoring with 17 points.

The results of the O'Connors-Forge game probably will throw the league into a tie for the first position as it is doubtful whether there is any other team in the league that can menace the chances of either the Forge or O'Connors in their remaining games.

Thursday evening the postponed games of last Saturday will be played. In the first, at 7:00 p. m. Bakers will tackle the Forge. In the other Blomquist stacks up against the O'Connors.

Ridgway Wins Floor Honors On the Hilltop
Ridgway, Feb. 22.—The Ridgway High School Elkers won the championship of the Allegheny Basketball league in the first year of its existence when they trounced the Sheffield Wolverines at that place, 48 to 24. It was the ninth consecutive league win for the Ridgway team and gave the Elkers a two-game lead with a single loop encounter remaining on the schedule. Ridgway suffered its first loss of the season earlier in the week when it dropped a non-league affair to St. Marys Central High, 22 to 17.

Ridgway will play Bradford at a site and date yet to be selected for the championship of the Northern section, District 9, PIAA. Northern and Southern Section champions will meet for the District 9 title on March 17.

Wilcox clinched second place honors in the Mountain league when it gained a 33-21 triumph over Johnsonburg and St. Marys defeated Kane, 31 to 26.

Final league games Friday night find Wilcox at Ridgway, Sheffield at Kane, and St. Marys at Johnsonburg.

Youngsville, Feb. 19.—The Youngsville H. S. Basketball team defeated a strong Tidioute team last Friday night by a score of 43 to 44 in a thrill-packed game that went into an overtime period to decide which team was to be the winner. This win clinches the league title for the Youngsville team, which is undefeated in league contests, having won five, with one more tilt to play when Tionesta comes to Youngsville next Friday night.

Tidioute led the "Eagles" all through the first half, and it looked bad for Youngsville. At the end of the half, it was Tidioute leading by 23 to 21. In the last half both teams put on a burst of speed, and it was first one team leading, and then the other, and when the final whistle ended the game, the score was 42 to 42. In the overtime period Youngsville bettered the Tidioute team by one point to win the game 45 to 44.

This was the last game for Woods, high scoring captain of the Youngsville team, and Luvison, the Eagles outstanding guard, whose fine ball handling and floor work meant much to the team.

New York, Feb. 22.—(P)—Molla Mallory, eight times national singles champion and conqueror of the famous Suzanne Lenglen in a dramatic match in 1921, now goes happily about her business as a government employee, paying no attention to present day tennis and finding it "more fun to buy war bonds."

Since she retired in 1928, after a long career in which she won fame in her native Norway and on the courts of the world, Mrs. Mallory has not touched a tennis racket.

"I never had any desire to play a friendly game with anyone," she said. "I played tennis for just one reason. I wanted to beat everybody; didn't care about prizes or trophies. It was just in my blood to win. When I couldn't play tournament tennis any more I lost interest."

Mrs. Mallory disclosed that she once had an offer to turn professional for a promised $100,000, but turned it down because she never could see getting paid for something she liked to do.

The highlight of her career was the day in 1921 when the great Lenglen, now dead, stomped off the Forest Hills courts to default her place in the nationals after losing the first set to Mrs. Mallory. They met later and Molla lost, but it was that match of 23 years ago that will long be remembered as one of the most dramatic incidents of American sport.

Now Mrs. Mallory, a widow, leaves her modest East Side apartment at eight a. m. and doesn't return until six, gets a lift out of helping in the war effort and buying a bond every time she can. She has two brothers and a sister in Norway who have not been heard from since the Germans occupied their native land.

Outdoor Magazine Sends Man Here to Write of Fox Hunt
The 86 sportsmen who turned out for the Warren Field and Stream Club fox hunt Sunday were more bewildered than discouraged when they hunted hard until six o'clock and never put out a fox. The hunt was held in the Hatch

Run Valley, and there were far more fox tracks in the area hunted than there were in any previous night but the boy's hopes up high but without results. The hunts were probably as well or (Turn to Page Seven) ganized as it is possible to have them—the area being absolutely surrounded by men—and no chance for a fox to get through the line without at least being seen.

Weather was ideal—as was the lunch served by Frank Reese's refreshments committee. The friendly association of 86 men visiting during the lunch period, in a setting of a grove of hemlock trees, a warm sun, while enjoying hamburgs right off the charcoal grill—and good coffee; that, perhaps is as important to these men as anything else.

The interest which has resulted throughout Pennsylvania from these hunts which were originated by the Warren Field and Stream Club have now taken on a National scope. Announcement was made at the hunt yesterday that Arthur Grahame, writer for the Outdoor Life will make a trip to Warren next Sunday to cover one of these hunts for his magazine. The Outdoor Life Magazine is one of the leading publications devoted exclusively to hunting and fishing and it has a large circulation among sportsmen throughout the entire country. The local boys are working hard this week to line up "sure fire" country for next Sunday's hunt. They will meet at Finley's store at 10:00—and bring a cup for their coffee. Lunch will again be served by the committee.

What happens when your hat comes down?

SOMEDAY, a group of grim-faced men will walk stiffly into a room, sit down at a table, sign a piece of paper—and the War will be over.

That'll be quite a day. It doesn't take much imagination to picture the way the hats will be tossed into the air all over America on that day.

But what about the day after?

What happens when the tumult and the shouting have died, and all of us turn back to the job of actually making this country the wonderful place we've dreamed it would be "after the War"?

No man knows just what's going to happen then. But we know one thing that must not happen:

We must not have a postwar America fumbling to restore an out-of-gear economy, staggering under a burden of idle factories and idle men, wracked with internal dissension and stricken with poverty and want.

We must not have breadlines and vacant farms and jobless, tired men in Army overcoats tramping city streets.

That is why we must buy War Bonds—now.

For every time you buy a Bond, you not only help finance the War. You help to build up a vast reserve of postwar buying power. Buying power that can mean millions of postwar jobs making billions of dollars' worth of postwar goods and a healthy, prosperous, strong America in which there'll be a richer, happier living for every one of us.

To protect your Country, your family, and your job after the War—buy War Bonds now!
